TO FELLOW CANADIANS

Technocracy urges that all patriotic Canadians urge that Canada adopt the programme of "all for one and one for all." Canada must not permit the province of Quebec to blockade the national support of our armed forces overseas. They approve the installation of national military conscription as the first step toward total conscription, and urge that Canada further implement national military conscription with total conscription of men, machines, material and money, with national service from all and profits to none as the only adequate programme capable of defeating fascism at home and abroad, thus ensuring an orderly transition in the post-war period to a Canada of security and abundance. Remember that the lives of our husbands, sons and brothers overseas may rest upon the decisions we make today.

COWLEY HAPPENINGS

Morris Lenore, of the navy, returned home from Cornwallis, N.S., on Thursday, for a four week's leave. Bill Legarde and the Dumont brothers have recently returned from a hunting trip in the mountains, with them one deer and one mountain sheep.

Mrs. H. E. Person, of Lethbridge, arrived by Thursday evening's bus to fill the vacancy at the telephone office left by the resignation of Miss Isobel Porter, who is shortly to be married.

Word has been received by Mr. and Mrs. Albert Cleland that their second son, C.P.N. Raymond Cleland, is in a military hospital in Italy suffering malaria. He has been in Italy over a year and received leg wounds when in action a few months ago.

Mrs. X. C. Kauppi arrived yesterday to a number of friends in the Cowley hotel on Thursday afternoon in honor of her sister, Mrs. William Brown, of Vancouver, who is on a visit of a few weeks to south Alberta points.

COLEMAN

Work has commenced on Coleman's new memorial park being sponsored by the Canadian Legion. The location is immediately east of the club's property and will accommodate four bowling greens, a lawn and cenotaph.

MEETINGS RE HOSPITAL

REVIE WALKER

Squadron Leader D. R. Walker arrived from overseas on Tuesday afternoon quite unexpectedly. It was known that he had landed in eastern Canada along with a few hundred others who had seen very active service at the front, but was not expected before the week end. However, Revie took to the air, landing in Lethbridge, where he soon after struck a car ride to his home in town.

He is looking well, and is glad to be back on his native soil. Revie's rank is squadron leader with DFC and bar. He participated in the bombing of the Messen-Eder wings. When a special unit led by Wing Commander Guy Gibson, V.C., attacked those targets and flooded Germany's industrial Ruhr Valley. "My plane was No. 6 on the dam-busting operation," he claims. Revie had no less than sixty operational flights to his credit. He flew with the group that sank the German battleship Tirpitz.

FORMER BLAIRMORE

PASTOR DIES

Word has been received from Victoria, B.C., that Rev. Alexander Smith Tod, retired Presbyterian minister, had passed away on Wednesday of this week at the age of 65. Rev. Tod was for a time pastor of the Presbyterian church in Blairmore. He is survived by his wife, who for several years operated the Blairmore Pharmacy.

BLAIRMORE BOY BELIEVED

KILLED IN ACTION IN BURMA

Word was received last week end by Mr. and Mrs. John Yanota, of Blairmore, that their son, P.O. John Yanota, aged 24, is missing and believed killed in action over Burma.

Born in Bankhead, Alberta, Johnny came to Blairmore with his parents twenty-one years ago. He received his education in the Blairmore school and in the forestry branch youth training centre. He worked in the local mine with his father till he enlisted in the RCAF in July of 1941. He graduated as an observer at Chatham, N.B., in August of 1942 and was sent to India in December of 1943, where he received his commission in April of this year.

He was prominent in Pass hockey circles for some years. One other brother is in the army, and he has four sisters and one brother in this district.

BEHIND THE SCENES

WITH SANTA CLAUS

Arrangements made months ago by Canada's food organizers will bear fruit in groaning tables of Christmas fare in Canadian homes this year—with shelled almonds from Spain and Portugal; currants and raisins from Australia; walnuts, filberts and pecans, orange and lemon peel from our neighbours in the south; nutmeg from British West Indies; even imitation spices processed in Canada since Jan control of some spice producing countries.

Nothing shocks a politician so much as the discovery that his opponent is playing politics.

BELLEVUE OLDTIMER LEAVES FOR COAST

Another of Bellevue's oldtimers in the person of Isaac Hutton, a veteran of the last great war, has left to take up residence in Vancouver. He has been resident of Bellevue district since 1908, having worked in Glace Bay, N.S.; later at Fernie, before landing in Bellevue.

In 1910 he did good work at the explosion, where he was fireboss on duty, and was the means of saving a few lives when he retreated into the mine. He was highly commended by the late Robert Strachan, mines inspector for East Kootenay, for the good work he did in this connection. He could never have been out, but told Mr. Strachan to give his safety apparatus to a fellow worker, Fred Heal. He also was the means of driving No. 52 chute through to the surface to get the gas out of the mine before the men started to clean up.

He later went to Lethbridge, where he worked a short time. He was also one of the men who started the first Canadian society in The Pass, at Bellevue, along with Mr. William Kerr and the late Mr. John Kerr.

Everyone wishes Mr. and Mrs. Hutton the best of health and long life in their new home and surroundings.

HILLCREST HAPPENINGS

Mr. and Mrs. W. Morris and family are visiting relatives at Stavely this week.

Joe McNeil is a patient in the Bellevue hospital, having undergone an appendix operation.

Thirty-three scutlet bandages, 7 pair pajamas, 4 sweaters, 11 pairs children's socks and one baby gown were shipped from here to Red Cross headquarters in Calgary last week end.

E. O. Duke, MLA, returned Sunday from Edmonton, where he attended the Social Credit caucus.

TO INCREASE PRODUCTION

Six days after the FFI drove the Germans out of Toulouse, in southern France, the first maquis aeroplane "V" was assembled in an aircraft factory in the region and launched immediately in pursuit of the enemy, then only 75 kilometers away.

Writing in the French newspaper, "Combat," Vera Lindsay, an English journalist, gives this example of how quickly French workers have set about taking up the occupation-period slack in production. In 1939, the factory she visited produced six aeroplanes a day. During the whole of the occupation period, however, thanks to sabotage and the systematic slowing down of production, only 100 planes were assembled.

Hearing that there had been considerable difficulties between members of the FFI and the population of the region, a sort of revolution and sovietization of the factories, Miss Lindsay spent a week in Toulouse and Languedoc, where she found order and calm, and in Toulouse, a city of 300,000 inhabitants, a remarkable sense of organization and a keen desire to contribute to the war effort. That region, although agricultural, has important aeronautical industries. Factories rendered unusable by Allied bombardments and the sabotage of the maquis are producing again and, thanks to the efforts of the personnel, 20 fighter planes have been built and put into service since the liberation.

The only change which has occurred since the freeing of the territory has been the election of a workers' committee, whose duty it is to present suggestions to employers and to give advice on how to increase production. That is what has been called sovietization.

NEW TIRE DEVELOPMENT

Development of the first "heat-tempered" all-plastic tire—a step that eventually may greatly increase tire life—was announced recently by W. H. Funston, president of The Firestone Tire and Rubber Co. of Canada Limited. The development is considered of major importance because the tire is designed to whip the number one enemy of long wear—heat.

This new tire has been developed and is now being laboratory tested at the Akron, Ohio, plant. Whether the all-plastic oval ultimately will compete with its rubber colleague will not be known until the company completes the current laboratory examination and the grueling road tests to which the new tire will be subjected.

Experts agree that heat causes most tire failures and that great mileage could be rolled up if the problem were licked. Taking a long step toward achieving this goal, Firestone engineers built the all-plastic to run cooler than today's tires and to withstand twice the heat a natural rubber tire develops at high speeds.

This was done by thermosetting, or "heat-tempering," the 6.00-19 passenger car tire. The "tempering" was achieved by adding certain materials to the plastic and applying heat.

The Firestone all-plastic tire, which looks so much like a rubber tire that only an expert could tell the difference, does not crack or check in the sunlight and, unlike rubber tires, it is not soluble in gasoline or oil.

How soon all-plastic tires, if they live up to expectations, will be available for civilian use is uncertain because all tire manufacturing facilities now are devoted to building military and essential civilian tires.

NO PROFITS, NO TAXES

Socialists have nothing but contempt—mostly silent—for the person who asks them "where is the money to come from?" Those who do attempt to answer that question ask another: "Where did we get the money to finance the war?" The answer to that, of course, is that we got it out of taxation and victory loans. These were secured from the profits of industries and businesses, from large and small incomes, sales, taxes, etc., etc.

But under a socialist state, such as proposed by the CCF, there aren't going to be any profits or large incomes. Production is to be "for use, not profit," and everybody is to work for the good of everybody else, without mercenary or selfish motive. If there are to be no profits to tax, and if, as is proposed by the CCF handbook, taxation on incomes below $3,000 a year are to be reduced, where is the money to come from to maintain the greatly increased "public services," social security, public health, baby bonuses, and all the other schemes proposed for the good of the commonwealth? Civil servants, no matter how civil or publicly-minded they might be, could hardly be expected to work for nothing.

The question as to where the money is to come from to govern and administrate a socialist state is one that the CCF should solve and make clear to the people of Canada before it asks them to accept its elaborate programme of public services. With all of the productive industries and commercial institutions run on a no-profit basis, and the big-salaried men eliminated, the only source of revenue would be the so-called "common man"—but then, his taxes are to be reduced.

It may be, of course, that the CCF economists have some sort of "secret weapon" which they intend to spring on the "enemy" at the last moment.

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY

There's Something About Christmas

By MARY ROUNDS

McClure Newspaper Syndicate

Snow and sleet, and rain freezing on the windshield. It was Christmas Eve and Donna had been driving since early morning.

She set her teeth and stepped out again into ankle-deep slush. The wiper wasn't doing a thing to the heavy layer of ice. With her own special tool, made from a clothespin and an old safety-razor blade, she scraped a space that would stay clear for just about three minutes. Thank goodness, it wasn't much farther to Aunt Jane's!

A two hundred mile trip was bad enough, but to have to drive the last few miles in this kind of weather was enough to wear down any girl. But Aunt Jane and Uncle Bill would be glad to see her, and if she could give these two dear old people a little happiness by spending Christmas with them, she supposed she ought to arrive in something like a cheerful frame of mind.

Sighing wearily, she climbed back into the car, switched on the lights and started.

It was growing dark when she crossed the old iron bridge and swung into Fayton. The town was bright with Christmas decorations. Strings of twinkling lights spanned the main street, making an arch so lovely it made her heart sing. Christmas was ringing, too, and Donna, in spite of aching muscles and numbing fingers, thrilled as she always did to the ageless beauty of "Silent Night! Holy Night!"

She drove slowly under the Christmas lights, then with the music still echoing in her heart, turned off on to the narrow river road that twisted in and out among the foothills of Mt. Knox. Aunt Jane lived at Fayton Corners, six miles farther on.

Donna remembered the crooked little road. It would probably be a solid sheet of ice. She wasn't mistaken. About a mile beyond the town, when she'd just pulled her car out of a bad skid, a horn tooted不停地 and a splashed gray coupe careened past.

"Idiot!" she thought furiously, as the car slithered around the next curve. "He won't get far at that rate!"

Two curves farther on she came around the corner. Its wheels were headed toward the road, its top miraculously rested against a tree trunk, and its headlights pointed crazily heavenward.

Donna eased up alongside and rolled down her window. A masculine head appeared, with hairless brown hair, nice brown eyes and good features, followed by a pair of broad shoulders, and gloved hands that thumped on the car door.

"Confound this ice!" The door swung open and the man grinned sheepishly. "This is the car I just passed, isn't it?"

Donna nodded. "I'll take you to a telephone," she offered, "or back to town for a wrecker."

The young man looked her over appraisingly, then dug out a professional looking black bag. "A doctor," Donna said a little more kindly, "so I suppose he has a perfect right to step on it if he likes."

And then they were in Donna's car, proceeding toward Fayton Corners a little faster than before, but oh, so carefully. And the young doctor was explaining. "I've been on the go since early this morning, and now she would—this Weston woman out at Fayton Corners—pick tonight to have her seventh baby."

Arrived at Weston's, "I'll wait," Donna offered.

"You'll do nothing of the kind," Dr. Mathewson told her with a smile that somehow warmed her heart and made her feel needed and important. "You'll come right in and help. If I know this outfit, I'm going to need somebody like you pretty badly. They never have anything ready, won't even call a doctor until things begin to get lively, and then they expect him to break his neck to get here!"

"You, very nearly did," Donna reminded him as she followed him into the weather-beaten old house. According to the clock it wasn't very long before everything was over, and the tiny newcomer, wrapped in an old flannel blanket lay sleeping in her arms.

"Good girl!" Dr. Mathewson complimented her, as they both looked down into the tiny wrinkled face.

"You can put him down now. We'll be off."

"If you could drop me off at a telephone somewhere—I don't know what I'd have done without you."

Donna headed straight for Aunt Jane's. "It's only a short way," she explained. "There's a telephone. They're expecting me, and a cup of hot coffee won't do either of us any harm."

"And you passed up all this?"

She marveled a little later, sitting before Aunt Jane's fire, "—just to help me?" "Doctor's orders!" she reminded him. "And anyway it's Christmas Eve, and all the time I was remembering that other Baby, the very first Christmas Baby—" her voice grew soft. "—it seemed almost as if I were doing it for him."

"I know," Dr. Mathewson's eyes dimmed into hers with a look of deep understanding. "I felt it too. There's something about Christmas."

They sat gazing into the fire, and deep, glowing and happy all over. There certainly was something about Christmas. Especially this Christmas!

MADE FAST FLIGHT

A direct non-stop flight from London to Cairo in 10 hours 25 minutes completed the "four-engine York" record of R.A.F. transport command, the air ministry reported. The Avro York is an adaptation of the Lancaster heavy bomber. The flight was made at an average speed of 238 miles an hour for the 2,450-mile journey.

The Norwegian fjords are never icebound, due to the influence of the Gulf Stream.

HERE'S MY FEED PROBLEM

Must young calves be raised on milk?

HERE'S THE ANSWER . . .

No. Feed "Miracle" Calf Meal and you will save almost a ton of milk per calf. The sale of this milk means money, and "Miracle" Calf Meal raises calves at least 4 months earlier. That's a real saving on feed costs.

Wartime Mapping

Valuable Charts That Cover Wide Areas in Northern Canada

A complete set of aeronautical charts covering all the land areas of the world will be available to civil fliers in the post-war era if the action of a technical sub-committee of the International Civil Aviation Conference is successful.

This development took place while top delegates of the "Big Three" powers, the United States, United Kingdom and Canada, worked toward a joint three-party proposal on an international agreement to set up a world aviation authority or council.

They sought a way out of a deadlock which results from British and Canadian insistence on a world authority with regulatory powers and American desire for a situation which will allow airlines to compete freely for traffic.

The sub-committee of the conference on standards for aeronautical charts is one of the groups of experts within the conference who have been making the bricks that go to build a world aviation structure while the top-level ministers and diplomats debate the form the structure is to take to step on it if he likes."

And then they were in Donna's car, proceeding toward Fayton Corners a little faster than before, but oh, so carefully. And the young doctor was explaining. THE BEST FISH STORY
OF THE SEASON

"I was strolling down at the dam minding my own business," says a local expert, "when I hooked and landed one whale of a pike. There was something strange-looking about him, so I opened him up and inside him was a huge pickerel . . . a little green belly, real pretty, so I opened him up, too . . . and inside him was a half-pound pickerel . . . bigger than your finger. Well, I opened him, too, and whadya know? Inside, so help me, were half a dozen minnows less'n an inch long.

CANADA'S FLAG REPLACED

In probably the simplest ceremony of this war, Canada's flag was raised once again over the only Canadian soil in France when Walter Terrell, Canadian Legion supervisor, and a group of Canadian soldiers visited the Vimy Memorial and replaced the flag and flag pole which had been removed by the Germans.

This information was revealed in a letter from Mr. Terrell, which reached Legion headquarters in Ottawa recently.

Although Canada's war memorial abroad, while other families' only son Vimy Ridge was under German occupation from the fall of France until the Nazis were driven back into their own country, the memorial apparently suffered no damage, Mr. Terrell reported. The caretaker, George Stubb, formerly of Winnipeg, who would think that every able-bodied man was a prisoner of war from 1940 until citizen would be willing to fight for it, but it is not the case."

Mr. Terrell began visits to the memorial early in April when, as a Legion supervisor, he took a group from his unit on a recreational tour. The visit proved so popular with the men that visits have now become almost a weekly occurrence. The Stubbs family, who suffered considerably at the hands of the Germans, are wading almost knee-deep in gifts that the visiting soldiers have heaped upon them. Mr. Stubb was appointed caretaker of the memorial when it was unveiled by King Edward VIII on July 26, 1936.

PREPARING FOR CIVILIAN LIFE

Soldiers and members of the Canadian Women's Army Corps stationed in Alberta are making preparations for the day when they return to civilian life by taking full advantage of special educational facilities.

In all training camps in the province special educational courses are now being held, while in Calgary and Edmonton army personnel are combining with members of the navy and RCAF at educational classes. More than thirty different classes are now in operation.

The majority of courses are held with the co-operation of the Canadian Legion Educational Services, while in Calgary three classes are being conducted with co-operation of Canadian vocational training, and an art course will soon begin at the Institute of Technology and Art.

Subjects being taught include welding, handi-arts, automotive engineering, cabinet making, show card writing, shop work, typing, book-keeping, shorthand, sewing, art, wood working and high school subjects.

SOME FRONT LINE THINKING

Letters from the men overseas have been appearing a great deal in the press lately. Here's one with more than usual food for thought:

"Many of us have not thought this war through. We need to get our thinking jacked up if the right idea education that inspires our youth to is to grip the nations and transform the true service of the nation. We see the superficial causes of the war will carry us beyond the winning of the war to the building of the new fortunate generation that has to fight it world.

Many think that after the war the unfortunate interlude in our lives will fighters in the war of ideas, and rise have ended and the world will settle to the heights of statesmen who will down, or at least we can.

"The fact is that we are fighting not earned the right to go back to a something more than a war of arms, life of ease, but inherit through our Allies will win the war, but when victory of arms the responsibilities of it is won there is still the battle of building the future. Now for us all ideas. Only a better idea will win the the call is to become soldier-statesmen thinking of the peoples, and only a who will give everything for our coun-shining alternative will convince them try in war or peace."

"In Italy the shelled houses and bomb-cratered roads stand as a silent witness of a civilization that has lost its way, of a nation that lacked sane leadership. Many today are thinking of plans for the post war world, but they are based on a materialist philosophy of life. Some plans find ready support because they offer un-demanding solutions. Any plan which does not have the changing of human nature as a factor will fail.

"We must have teamwork as a governing factor in our society. Team-work in industry. Unselfish service in business. Civic and national policies free from self-interest. We must have sound homes, where divorce is not a danger, but an impossibility. Family life must become once again the heart-beat of the nation. We must have an

From your car, you can call home to say you're on the way. The handi-talkie will be a marvel of everyday life not only in sports but in every type of business and industry—planned for you by men who think of tomorrow.

WHO, indeed, doesn't look forward to the good things of tomorrow—when peace comes again? Yet we cannot for an instant relax our vigilance—not so long as there is a single armed enemy soldier at large—Nazi or Jap!

We must fight to the end the battle against waste; we must keep production at its highest pitch; we must salvage fats and waste paper and metals; we must conserve gasoline and rubber; and, above all, we must continue buying and keeping Victory Bonds and War Savings Certificates.

• Does a soldier lay his rifle down when enemy resistance slackens for a moment? No! And no more may we at home withdraw our help by cashing in our Victory Bonds. They represent a pledge to our government and our fighting forces that we will back them to the last. This we must do.

• Let us all be men who think of tomorrow... by holding our home front battle lines today!

"Okay," yawned the business man. "Hello!"

"What's that?" cried the voice at the other end.

"I said 'Hello'!"

"Oh," said the voice, "Hello!"

The business man paused. "Well," he demanded, "what do you want?"

"Nothing," answered the voice. "Absolutely nothing."

The other saw red. "What?" he roared. "If you didn't want anything, why do you call me at three in the morning?"

"That's simple," replied the voice cheerily. "The night rate is cheaper!"

I Am Your Newspaper

THERE APPEARED in the Publishers' Auxiliary of November 4th last, an editorial written by Carl R. Miller for his own paper, the Willacy County Chronicle. The issue for which this editorial was written was calling attention to the Annual Observance of Newspaper Week and contains so much of interest to our own Canadian Weekly Newspaper Publishers that we are taking the liberty of placing it on record for the benefit of both publishers and readers. The editorial follows:

This week throughout the nation I am one among a group of some 9,000 country newspapers calling your attention to the annual observance of Newspaper Week. To be a newspaper, boasting of big-name columnists or big-town syndicated features, I lay no claim. A small county in the Rio Grande valley, Willacy county with its 14,000 people, lays no claim to being a big county.

For the past 32 weeks ending October 1 this year I have brought you a total of 61,000 column inches of news about you, your family and your friends in and around Willacy county. This represents approximately the equivalent of six big Sunday issues of the Dallas Morning News, or 434 pages. Each week for the past year I have carried the names of over 1,000 individuals, the names of women and your neighbors.

I have printed more than 200 pictures of Willacy county men and women serving in the army, navy and marines on the battlefronts of the world. I have brought you news and reprinted letters of your boys and girls in the camps and naval bases; on the invasion fronts in Europe and the Pacific.

When the shocking news came from the War Department that Cpl. Oran Taylor was killed in action over the English channel, when S-Sgt. Charlie Kuehne lost his life in a raid on Berlin, when S-Sgt. Miller died from wounds received on the Italian front, you read about it in my column. You read about the awards of the Distinguished Flying Cross, the Purple Heart and other orders recognitions for Willacy county boys. You read about the proud day they received their symbolic wings on the day they were promoted to privates first class; the day they became colts and majors.

Here on the home front, in my columns you read about what the folks in Lyford, Sebastian, San Ferlita and La Sierra were doing each week. You learned what attended the annual meeting of the Willacy county Ration Board, the meeting of the Stillman Trade Home Demonstration club, who had charge of the program of the Study club, how many new Texans came into the world during the week, who preached at the Baptist church. Each week I told you what you learned from the editor thought about things that concern Willacy county folks. You read what other weekly editors were writing.

By reading the advertisements in my columns you learned what local merchants had merchandise or other services to offer thereby saving you valuable time and giving you the opportunity to make use of war-time shopping. You scanned columns for news of what was worthwile service. So on, through my pages until you read in the Trading Post that Cpl. B. V. Cross had just had his first promotion to sergeant. Small are country people, like the people I now serve, we the 9,000 country papers throughout the length and breadth of the land, will continue to serve you.

Prudly I say, "I am your newspaper!" — Carl R. Miller in the Willacy County Chronicle, Raymonde, Texas.

We think the time has come for all our editors to stress the value of their own newspaper, setting forth what it means to their community. It has been the experience of many publishers that the war has made the people acutely conscious of the value and importance of their weekly newspaper and this is evidenced by the greatly increased circulation and by the comments and attitude of the public in general. Weekly newspaper readers have awakened to the fact that nowhere else than in their weekly paper can they read news concerning themselves and their fellow townfolk. This is important to them because nearly every family has some story with a war angle. We must not forget too, those who have gone out to larger centres in these war days, but who never forget their home ties and look forward eagerly to the next issue of the home paper. This evidence of confidence and appreciation brings its own responsibilities, which is that the weekly paper must be kept on a high level of attractiveness. The editor intends doing his part and if readers rally to his support there is bound to emerge from this co-operation a better weekly newspaper and a more enlightened community.

Information

G—My son is now in the Armed Forces. Must I send in his No. 5 ration book as well as his No. 5 book or may I keep a few coupons for when he comes home on week-ends?

A No. 5 ration book is in the name of a member of the Armed Forces.

Must be surrendered to his unit when he reports for duty. Your son will be provided by his unit with an Application for Ration Card and members of the Armed Forces or a Ration Card when coming home for 48 hours or longer.

Q—I read the other day that groceries could deliver orders under one dollar. Yet, when I ordered 25¢ worth of sugar at my grocer said he couldn't deliver it. Can he refuse to make such a delivery?

A—Yes, while the regulations limit deliveries to one dollar or over, the grocer is free to refuse to deliver his own deliveries, policy and, of course, deliveries are still restricted to one per day on any route.

Q—I find that I will not be using my remaining canned sugar coupons as the fruit season is about over. Are they any value or should I dispose of them?

A—Canning sugar coupons which are not required should be destroyed. However, they may be used to purchase sugar for the purpose of exchanging for preserves coupons.

Local Ration Board until December 31. —

Q—I am thinking of selling my tractor now and buying a new one in the spring. Must I obtain a permit to do so?

A—Yes, you must obtain a permit to sell a tractor or you will be entitled to make application to buy a new one.

Q—When buying clothes should I keep the new Wartime Prices and Trade Board label that I see on so many of the garments I purchase these days?

A—By all means. If you have to make a complaint as to size, price or quality of the garment you will need the label in order to trace the article and to check as to your complaint.

Please send your questions or your request for the pamphlet "Conditions of Service and Ration Books" in which you keep track of your clothing purchases, mentioning the name of this paper to the nearest Wartime Prices and Trade Board office in your province.

Churchill Slept In Bed Goering Always Used In Paris

Prime Minister Churchill's recent visit to Paris must have brought him a bit of personal satisfaction over the liberation of France. While there, Mr. Churchill slept in the same bed in the same room at Quai d'Orsay which Marshal Goering used to sleep in during his visits to Paris during the German occupation.

The fat marshal also occasionally used a bed in an adjoining room which was occupied by Foreign Secretary Eden, who accompanied Mr. Churchill.

WILL NEED HELP

R. E. G. Davis, director of the Canadian Youth Commission, said at Toronto 80 per cent. of Canadian youth do not believe that private industry can provide all the post-war work needed without government aid.

Dependents were eligible for gratuities only if they were eligible for dependents' allowances at the date of the member's death or, if not eligible for dependents' allowances, providing they were dependent upon the member at the time and in receipt of assigned pay from him.

The discharged personnel themselves, however, must fill in all the details required in the application forms.

Gratuity Legislation

Applications Should Be Sent In By Men Discharged From The Services

Fewer than 41,000 applications for war service gratuities have been received by the navy, army and air force at Ottawa since it was announced some time ago that application forms were available, a survey by the Canadian Press showed.

Approximately 180,000 in the three services were discharged or became casualties prior to Oct. 1, and of the number only 40,700 have applied for the gratuities, provided under legislation passed at the last session of parliament.

Spokesmen for the services said it was the backlog of 155,000 who have not yet applied that was causing worry and it was hoped they or their dependents would file applications promptly. Personnel discharged after that date automatically filled out their gratuity application forms before leaving the service.

Application forms are available at all naval, military and air force establishments in Canada and at all district and sub-district offices of the former pensions department, now the department of veterans affairs.

A—Canning sugar coupons which are not required should be destroyed. However, they may be used to purchase sugar for the purpose of exchanging for preserves coupons.

Under the gratuity legislation active service personnel will receive $7.50 for every 30 days service in the western hemisphere, which includes Canada, the West Indies, Newfoundland and South America; $15 for every 30 days service overseas, including the Aleutians, Greenland and Iceland; seven days' pay and allowances for each six months' service overseas, and a re-establishment credit.

Members of the home defence army who served in Kiska are entitled to gratuities covering the period of their service there. Other home defence troops, however, receive no benefits under the legislation.

Notice of other countries who served in Canadian forces is entitled to the gratuities. Canadians who have been discharged from other Empire forces during the present war may apply, if they now are domiciled and resident in Canada, and were domiciled in Canada at the outbreak of hostilities. Those discharged from the other Empire forces need apply by letter only, giving full particulars of service.

Payment of gratuities is expected to begin early in the new year. For that reason it was advisable for those eligible to file their applications immediately.

"Those eligible should realize that if they file their applications in the middle of December only they cannot expect to receive their cheque the first week in January," a spokesman said. "There is too much administrative work to be done to allow such prompt payment."

Dependents were eligible for gratuities only if they were eligible for dependents' allowances at the date of the member's death or, if not eligible for dependents' allowances, providing they were dependent upon the member at the time and in receipt of assigned pay from him.

The discharged personnel themselves, however, must fill in all the details required in the application forms.

TOOK NO CHANCES

Goering Removed All Of His Possessions From East Prussia

While assuring the people that East Prussia was invulnerable, Reichsmarshall Hermann Goering nevertheless sent fifteen trucks to his hunting lodge three weeks before the Russians launched their current offensive into East Prussia. The trucks were loaded under the command of Goering's personal staff, including valuable paintings cut from their frames; then they moved off toward Berlin.

The lodge, which is in the Rominten Forest, used to belong to the Hohenzollern family. It is no hut. It has two massive wings, connected by a glass-domed gallery, and is ornamented with carved animal heads and Gothic stained-glass windows. The forest is well stocked with deer and wild boar, which Kaiser Wilhelm used to shoot, and after him Goering. Now the game no doubt is helping to feed the Red Army, for Goering's private hunting was right: the Russians did take the hunting preserve and its lodge. — New York Herald Tribune.

Military Record

Indian Family That Has Contributed Much To The War effort

Chief Joe Dreaver of the Mistawasis Indian reserve in Saskatchewan, is one person who knows the meaning of war.

The day war was declared Chief Dreaver arrived in Saskatoon with all the boys of military age in the reserve. There were 14 of them, among them his three sons. All enlisted in the Canadian Army.

The years that followed saw the little group scattered but on Oct. 6 it suffered its first death. Sgt. Harvey Dreaver was killed in Italy. The reserve was also notified that Pte. Sam Dreaver of Leask, Sask., an uncle of Harvey's had been wounded.

Chief Dreaver has an outstanding military record himself. A veteran of the First Great War, he is now a member of the Veterans Guard of Canada, guarding Nazi prisoners of war at Medicine Hat, Alta.

Recently he visited Saskatoon to see his son George, discharged after serving in Italy, acting chief, and his daughters, Mabel, a member of the C.W.A.C. and Gladys, a member of the R.C.A.F. (W.D.). After the reunion he returned to the reservation for a memorial service in honor of his son.

Enemy Trying To Increase His Sub Activities

LONDON.—A Wellington bomber of the famed Canadian Demon Squadron destroyed a German submarine attempting to reach the North Atlantic shipping lanes while an R.A.F. Liberator heavily damaged a U-boat 400 miles north of the Arctic circle. It was disclosed here.

An announcement of these separate actions followed one describing two others in which one U-boat was destroyed and another possibly destroyed by coastal command Liberators. These announcements reflected recent attempts by the Germans to increase submarine activities after a period of comparative inaction.

The Demon crew, captained by F.O. Lorne Bateman, D.F.C., of Winnipeg, sighted the U-boat by means of the bomber's searchlight shortly after the submarine left port at night. A few hours after the attack, when a reconnaissance was made, survivors were seen clinging to rafts.

In the other attack, a R.A.F. in-drawn patrol squadron Liberator piloted by F/O D. A. Willowes of Bala, newfoundland, managed to bring the U-boat out of the water with depth charges. The submarine disappeared from sight a few seconds later and the bodies of 10 gunners, who were killed at their posts, were swept into the icy sea. The bomber escaped undamaged.

Changes Are Announced In British Cabinet

LONDON.—Prime Minister Churchill has placed responsibility for rehousing Britain's bombed-out population on the shoulders of his son-in-law, Duncan Sandy, naming Col. Sandy, minister of works to succeed Lord Portal.

In another new appointment he named Sir Edward Grigg as British minister-resident in the Middle East to succeed the late Lord Moyne, assassinated in Cairo, Nov. 6.

Mr. Churchill also announced that the ministry of economic warfare headed by Lord Selborne will be dissolved because the announcement said, the blockade of Germany now is maintained almost entirely by the armed forces of the Allies on her frontier.

These were the most important of a series of ministerial appointments issued from 10 Downing street.

Capt. Harold Balfour, undersecretary of state for air and well-known in Ottawa, where he has attended various conferences of the Commonwealth air training plan, was named minister-resident in West Africa. In this post he succeeds Viscount Swinton, who recently became minister of civil aviation.

Cmdr. R. A. Brabner, Conservative member of the House of Commons for Hythe, was named to succeed Capt. Balfour as air undersecretary.

John Wilmot, Labor M.P. for Kensington, a London borough, was appointed to succeed Col. Sandy at the ministry of supply.

"I have come to the conclusion that the office of minister of works must at this juncture be held by a minister in the House of Commons," Mr. Churchill said in a letter to Lord Portal. "The housing situation in regard to prefabricated dwellings and bombing reports is so important that the minister will require to have necessary statements and explanations made to them by a minister in their midst who is actually responsible for having the work done."

Early in August after two months of robot bombing of London and southern England, Mr. Churchill said in the House of Commons that 17,000 homes had been wrecked and 800,000 damaged, with 600,000 of those damaged having been made habitable.

PRaised For Work

General Eisenhower Pays Tribute To British And Canadian Armies

ALLIED SUPREME HEADQUARTERS.—From the Allied supreme commander, Gen. Dwight Eisenhower, came high praise of the work of the First Canadian and British Second Armies at the northern end of the Allied line which preceded the present new offensive.

These operations covered the clearing of the Scheldt estuary to open the great port of Antwerp for Allied shipping.

Walcheren Island (in the Scheldt estuary) was one of the most gallant actions of this war," he said. "The navy really deserves great kudos. The Canadian and British armies did a splendid and aggressive piece of work in clearing up the areas at that end of the line."

MANY PRISONERS

Allies Capture 691,989 On Western Front Since D-Day

LONDON.—Allied armies on the western front have captured at least 691,989 prisoners since D-day, June 6, the equivalent of 69 German divisions as presently constituted.

Latest announced total showed: First Canadian Army, 95,132; British Second Army, 94,984; French forces of interior with British and Canadian armies, 20,000.

U.S. First Army, 200,138; U.S. Third Army, 137,400; U.S. Seventh Army, 50,916; U.S. Ninth Army, 55,670; French First Army, 57,939.

GIVING UP ARMS

Chiefs Of Resistance Organizations In Belgium Come To Decision

BRUSSELS.—The chiefs of Belgium's various resistance organizations agreed to deliver all the arms of the resistance forces to the Allied armies and concurred in the procedure by which the weapons will be surrendered.

Meeting with Maj.-Gen. George Erskine and other officials of the supreme Allied headquarters mission to Belgium, the resistance leaders agreed their organizations would deliver the arms at a designated depot.

Surrender of the arms by members of the resistance forces is in response to an order by the Belgian government which has led to organized protests throughout the country.

VISIT TO MOSCOW

Says Journey Is Essential To The Future Of France

PARIS.—Foreign Minister Georges Bidault told the consultative assembly that the forthcoming Moscow visit by Gen. De Gaulle with him "is a journey which must be considered as essential to the future of France and the peace of the world." He said it "concerns the peace of Europe."

Asserting there could be no Europe without the collaboration of the Soviet people, he added "a western bloc which rejects those who are not protected by the ocean must not be created."

The foreign minister said President Roosevelt was expected to visit Paris soon.

GERMAN EVACUEES

Living Where There Are Grim Reminders Of German Rule

VAUGHT, CONCENTRATION CAMP, Holland.—German civilian evacuees are living in comparative comfort in this huge concentration camp which once was a Nazi deathhouse.

There still are grim reminders of the horror under German rule when 30,000 Netherlands civilians were believed to have been put to death here. Nearby is the crematory where more than 13,000 persons perished.

The German men, women and children have been removed from the battle zone in Germany and living conditions for them are better than they would be in the combat zone.

These Germans mostly are farmers and Roman Catholics. The colonel appointed a Catholic priest as their head and he transmits the colonel's orders.

Allies Steadily Forging Ahead On West Front

LONDON.—There is every reason for satisfaction over the successes of Eisenhower's armies in the past week on the western front, just as there should be special appreciation in Canada of the manner in which our First Canadian army paved the way for this offensive.

The ground gains is rather substantial in total, but should not in itself give rise to any exceptional optimism, as an early end is in sight.

These gains should be interpreted as having more of a psychological than a strategic importance, except insofar as our Allied troops have actually penetrated the Siegfried defenses.

It is true that every mile of ground gained on German soil is likely to inject more fear into the stomachs of any wavering Germans, just as it may well put more determination into the sinews of the more fanatical Nazis, but in the main the psychological balance favors the Allies.

There is generally reported to be about half a million defence troops available for the Siegfried line from the lower Rhine around Nijmegen to the Swiss border, a much inferior force to that mustered by Eisenhower, and, for that reason it may well be that in many instances the Germans will retire to the most favorable ground, which in the first instance is the prepared positions of the Siegfried line and then, if necessary, to the Rhine itself.

There has been no evidence of a general withdrawal, though in some cases the enemy has given up ground at the minimum of expense in man-power.

While some thousands of prisoners have been taken in these operations, the numbers have not been much greater than might be expected where rearguard action is attempted and the quality of these enemy troops is not high, and includes a pretty mixed lot of troops from occupied countries and over-age conscripts with little training. There is a slightly familiar smell to this, mindful of the days in Normandy when S.S. and panzer units were used in the rear, to bolster poorer troops in the front line.

It would seem that the Germans are holding their crack troops mostly for the Siegfried defenses.

We will not beat Germany until we liquidate half a million troops now manning the Siegfried defenses, and we may not be able to do that until our soldiers at least have made effective crossings of the Rhine.

The Allies take ground more and more Reich soil, slowly forging a terrific ring of diminishing perimeter, thus forcing Germany more directly from the Low Countries as well as on the eastern front from around Budapest, and perhaps to a lesser extent with our successes at Belfort.

The drive over the border into Germany naturally adds to the spirit of our fighting men, much as they realize the tough obstacles that lie ahead, and none are more interested in a speedy end than the man up front.

Perhaps the most significant development in recent days has been some temporary improvement in the weather. There is not one chance in a hundred of two weeks of conditions suitable for an all-out effort by the tactical air force, but these have been several good days, while the bombers have continued their air onslaught. You might still say that the end of the war will be determined more by the weather than any other unpredictable factor.

MEET NEXT YEAR

Report Plans For Early Meeting Of The Big Three Have Been Changed

WASHINGTON.—Plans for an early meeting of Mesra, Churchill, Roosevelt and Stalin appear to have changed and the best prospect now is for a parley early in 1945.

Exactly what has happened to the projected Big-Three meeting before the end of this year is not certain. But presumably the way in which the European war is having to be fought full-scale into the winter and the probability now that it will last into next spring has had a lot to do with it.
